DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

From the Correspondence of the N. Y. World.

THE LATE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

—FACTS FROM BEHIND THE CURTAIN.

There is one singular fact connected with this whole affair, and that is, not a word or whisper escaped the lips of any person in reference to the political strength of Grant. He was treated as a nonentity by all sides.—The success of this ticket was not counted upon the support which Grant would give it—he was left out of the calculation. But the entire calculation of the vote that it would poll was based upon the popularity and strength of the nominee for Vice-President; in other words, it was the nominee for Vice President which was to carry through the ticket with Grant at its head. That this is the real state of the case, it is only necessary to refer to the argument used. The friends of Fenton declared that Grant could not carry New York unless Fenton was on the ticket. The friends of Colfax declared that Grant could not carry Indiana unless Colfax was placed on the ticket with him; any other man would defeat the ticket in that State. The Missouri delegation declared that it would be perfectly useless to think of running Grant in that State unless old Ben. Wade was placed on the ticket, while others claimed that if Wade was nominated with Grant it would defeat the ticket in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin. If these assertions of the delegates themselves are true, then the only inference to be drawn is that the Republicans do not believe that Grant has any political strength, and that the political power of the ticket nominated, like its brains, is all in the tail.

The Southern delegations formed in many respects a curious feature. There were in all some ten colored delegates from the South. These represented a variety of hues, from the dark black or ebony to the pale yellow, and were as a general thing dressed "to kill," with their ruffled bosoms, "exquisite neck ties," and everything that would convey the idea to their brother darkies that they belonged to the aristocracy and the ruling class. These delegates were seen mixing in the crowds around the hotels, but more as listeners than participators. They appeared to feel above placing themselves on equality with the common mass of politicians, and whenever any politicians desired to talk with them they found it necessary to take them to their rooms and do it up in a more genteel way. Some of the New York delegates labored with these colored gentlemen for their vote for Fenton, but somehow those that they treated the most voted against Fenton from the first to the last. They had the colored delegates from Texas in tow, treated them in their rooms, and stopping at the hotel, and showed up an invitation with a long rigamarole of what he had done in behalf of the negro and how much he thought of the colored race. It was rubbed in so thick that it disgusted the colored delegates, and from that moment forward those colored "gemmen" from Texas were opposed to Fenton and his friends who would stoop so low as the person alluded to did.

This is the first National Convention out of seven or eight which I have attended, commencing in 1856, that buying and selling of votes was a common occurrence, boldly talked over and done without the least effort to cover it up. The Southern delegations were nearly all put down before they arrived here as certain for Wilson. Soon after they made their appearance it commenced leaking out that these men were turning over to some other candidate. The Wilson men, on making enquiries of delegates pledged to him, would get the reply, "Oh, we are all poor, and whoever gets our vote must do something for us." Another delegate would vary this story by saying that he had to mortgage his place to get to the Convention, and must be made whole. The next delegate would say that there were several families suffering in his neighborhood, and a little expenditure of money would do a great deal of good. All manner of dodges of this kind and statements of the above character were made, showing that money was what these men were after. Before the nomination was made, they had got to be so bold that the matter was openly discussed at their meetings. A committee, advocating the claims of a certain candidate, waited upon the Mississippi delegation, and, after stating their business, were told by the Chairman, in the presence of the whole delegation, that these candidates had got to do something before they would vote for them. We are poor and want money, was the constant story. In fact, the carpet-baggers were looking after their rations, and were determined to have them.

A friend of Wade went to one of the Florida delegation and asked him to support Wade. The Florida delegate wanted to know what Wade would do for him.—Why, says he, if I go for Fenton I can get my expenses paid to this Convention!

It is impossible to tell whether the stories about delegations being purchased are all true or not; but the boldness of the Southern delegates talking about it gives good reason for crediting most of the stories. If they are, then what must be thought of the party which claims to represent the morality and virtue of the country and puts into its platform an anti corruption resolution, and yet resorts to the purchase of votes at its national Convention.

A delegation from one State composed of fourteen, in which were three negroes, it is reported, were sold out for $1,400, negroes and all. After two ballots another party steps into the field, and paid for five of those fourteen votes $350, and they voted on all subsequent ballots just as he wanted them. The Republican party have made a great noise in the past about the sale of negroes, but here the leaders of the organization have been engaged in buying them for from fifty to one hundred dollars each. Bribery being one of the characteristics of the national Convention of the party, what can be expected of its action in Legislatures?

A MAN PROPOSES TO MAKE THE DESCENT OF NIAGARA FALLS IN A LIFE BOAT.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

Since the days of the Blondin furore, when men and women stood aghast at the foolhardy daring of the great rope-walker, in the performance of his remarkable feats at the Niagara Falls, no such excitement has been known. A project has recently been started, however, which, if carried into execution, will eclipse any feat of daring ever yet attempted.

Chas. Ockford, of this city, the 60 hour skater, has conceived the idea of making the perilous passage over the Falls of Niagara in an India-rubber life boat, of peculiar construction. A few weeks ago the idea suggested itself to his mind, and upon communicating itself to some Eastern gentlemen, it was proposed by them that a purse of $30,000 be raised to induce him to make the undertaking. He accordingly perfected his scheme and the contract for building the boat has been let to the Goodyear Rubber Company, for $1,000. The boat will be an oblong, with a mean diameter of eight feet six inches thick at top and sides and three feet thick at the bottom. A shaft of the same material will extend from side to side in the centre, on which will be swung on a pivot a seat, to which the adventurous occupant will be fastened. Opening at the top will be an aperture sufficiently large for him to get inside, after which it will be filled with air and closed up. It is calculated that sufficient air can be retained to sustain life about twenty minutes. A small cable will be attached to the ball, by which it will be towed after the descent shall have been made, for which purpose parties will be stationed in boats immediately below the falls.

The model of this novel craft is now in this city, and there is no doubt that the attempt to carry this startling project into execution will be made during the present season. Mr. Ockford is quite confident that he shall succeed, but the chances for success certainly look dubious. Should he succeed, Mr. Sidney Doty, of Pontiac, will also undertake the same feat.

SALES OF LANDS, REPUDIATION, &c.

Impressed as we were, at the close of the war, with the oppressive indebtedness of our people, many of them being rendered hopelessly unable to pay their legal obligations by the excessive losses forced upon them by the exigencies of the war, we urged, as long as there was any hope, as the only prospect of relief to our people, an immediate and general effort, both on the part of debtors and creditors, to bring about a fair and honorable compromise. At every stage of our history, we have been more and more convinced that this suggestion contained the only hope both for creditors and debtors. Hence, as we opposed stay laws, before and during the war, as not only unconstitutional, but seriously prejudicial to the general interests of the people, so we have opposed them since the war.—The entire legislation of the State and military, looking to putting off the settlement of debts to a future day, has only served to delude the people and to inspire hopes of ultimate relief, which we were sure would not be realized. The only law, which has been passed and which we believed the Courts might safely respect for the nonce, for the good it might effect, was that which proposed to prevent the sale of property, unless it brought three-fourths of its real value. Like all the stay laws, it was unconstitutional, but not more so than those stay laws which have been attempted to be executed, and none of them were calculated to induce debtors and creditors to make an honorable compromise, by which arrangement creditors, in general, would have fared much better than they can now.—Only a few sharp, eager creditors have been able to collect their debts, and their forced collections have sacrificed property so horribly, that the effect has been a practical repudiation of four-fifths of the indebtedness of those whose property has been thus forced into market.

Anticipating such a result, when we found it impossible to induce the people to make a compromise, we have since urged all persons, hopelessly in debt, to apply for the benefit of the bankrupt law. This many persons have failed to do, who ought to have sought its benefits, and who now, when it is too late, will wish they had done so. Many are waiting until the last hour when

From all quarters throughout the State, in which large amounts have been sold by the Sheriffs within the last two months, have been ruinously low,—in most cases [illegible] being a fifth or tenth their value. Thus it is, that, in seeking to avoid repudiation, it has been practically enforced in many cases, affording no relief to any one except to a few creditors who were a little sharper than others. The pecuniary distress, which such a state of things brings upon the people, both debtor and creditor, is a thousand fold greater than could have been produced by an honorable compromise.

The following account of sales of land in Rockingham county, mentioned by the Danville Times, accords with sales under execution, which have been had in different parts of the State. Such sales are about equal to confiscation and repudiation, both together:

"A tract of land containing 330 acres, with a mill on it, was sold recently in Rockingham county, N. C., under execution, for $330. Another on the Piedmont Railroad sold for $1 per acre, and a tract which brought $1300 since the war was cried out at $250."

QUACKINGS.—Senator Drake is hard upon his "trooly loil" friends in the South. In his speech, in opposition to the admission of Arkansas, he said:

"Why this hurry to get these States back? They had pushed themselves out by war.—We had done without them for seven years and could do without them still. They were steeped to the neck in treason and treachery, and it was a fearful risk to bring them back now. What do we know about these representatives that they will send here?"

As no one is in a particular "hurry to get these States back," on the basis of the new mongrel Constitutions, except the "trooly loil" carpet-baggers and scallawags, who have been elected by the negroes to office thereunder, the objurgations of Drake can only apply to them. Verily, this is being wounded in the house of one's friends.—"They pushed themselves out by war!" Aye, that did they. These very men—to whom Mr. Drake refers, if language means anything,—who are now so vauntful of their "loyalty" and are clamoring for admission under the bogus Constitutions, were the most active men in our midst for secession and war. "They were steeped to the neck," if any men were, in what the Senator calls "treason and treachery," and it will be a "fearful risk" to bring them back now.—They cannot be trusted. Even Drake, as he flounders about in his mud puddle, can see this. Discerning, doubting Drake!

"What do we know," quacketh the Drake, "about these representatives that they will send here?" There's the rub. It is a difficult question to be answered. We cannot solve it. In nine cases out of ten, nineteen-twentieths of the people of the South know positively nothing of the adventurers, who have been elected to Congress by the negroes, and who claim to be our "representatives." No, we cannot help Drake out of his quandary.

THE CAPITOL of the nation will hereafter be known as the American Bastile. Infamy and disgrace accumulate daily.

THE TRUE DOCTRINE.

The New York World very forcibly says: "If Virginia is re-admitted this year, she will have as pefect a right to exclude negroes from the ballot next year, as Ohio had to exclude them last year. Even if she enter into a contract not to do so, it would not be binding, inasmuch as the relations of the States to the Federal Government cannot be changed by such a contract, but only by an amendment to the Constitution. The Constitution makes all States in the Union equal; any contract impairing that equality would be null."

In the debate in the Senate, on the Arkansas bill, a few days since, Mr. Ferry, one of the Radical Senators from Connecticut, expressed his utter disbelief in the doctrine that Congress had any right to restrict the power of the people of the Southern States in the matter of modifying suffrage hereafter. "While," said he, "I shall vote for the bill, as it stands, I do not consider the conditions worth more than so much blank paper." Other leading Republican Senators concurred in the opinion.

The New York Times, (Republican,) also says: "Each State can modify its laws as the emergency requires."

That is our doctrine,—the doctrine of the Conservative and Democratic masses of the country.

The Howard amendment will soon become a part of the Constitution, and it expressly guarantees to each State the right to regulate suffrage for itself, with the sole restriction that the non-voting population shall be excluded from the ratio of representation. Before a provision of the Constitution, the empty fulmination of Congress, contained in the Arkansas and Omnibus bills, will hardly rise to the dignity of "a bull against the comet!"

THE ACTION OF CONGRESS, in the matter of reconstruction, as well as the bitterness of feeling evinced towards the Southern people, since the war, have been prompted and engendered by the malice and falsehoods of the "truly loil" in the South, and the misrepresentations of carpet bag adventurers. These men are interested in the perpetuation of the hostility which has been gotten up among the Radicals in the North against the true men of the South.

There has been a constant effort, on the part of this class of men in the South, to keep up the impression that the Southern people are enemies of the government and of the negro race, and that the so-called "Southern loyalists" and negroes are persecuted. This has become a stereotyped expression, in the mouth of every Radical speaker in Congress, in all their allusions to reconstruction and to the Southern people. They ring the changes upon this string, with as much seriousness as if there were any truth in them.

These charges have been denied time and these statements, or an abandonment of them, yet they continue to be reiterated. In view of the acquittal of the President, these false statements were used without by the "Southern loyalists," that they were really afraid to return South, so long as the President remained in his seat. In the very face of positive contradiction, by the quiet submission of the Southern people and their endurance of degrading and humiliating requisitions, never before borne by American citizens, these malicious statements have been repeated.

Nay, more than this, threats of the inauguration of civil war upon us in the South have been made by Southern men, as the result of the failure to convict the President. These threats have been made in such a manner as to indicate that such a war would come, as the result of "rebel" persecution. Such slanders are uttered constantly by these reckless men, without regard to truth or decency, and in positive violation of all the facts. And these slanders are readily believed by Northern men, in the interest of the scallawags of the South, in the absence of all proof!

MOST of the Southern "loil" delegates to the Chicago Convention have returned home. We haven't heard that any of the timorous patriots have been injured in any way. How agreeably disappointed they must be, since the acquittal of the President, that they have not been knocked down, dragged out, sawn in sunder and otherwise mutilated! Did they not declare that it would be unsafe for them to return? Of course, then, they are pleasantly surprised and relieved.

A WEEK has elapsed since the acquittal of the President. There are no signs, as yet, of that "beating of drums and blowing of fifes," that Dewcese talked about, in that famous speech in Washington, when he predicted "blood and thunder," and civil war, as the result of the failure of impeachment.

REMOVAL OF RANDOLPH MACON COLLEGE.—A meeting was held a few evenings since in the Broad street Methodist church to consider the removal of Randolph Macon College to Ashland. There were representatives from Petersburg and Norfolk, who spoke of the interest which their people felt in this enterprise. It is understood that liberal subscriptions will be raised in these cities. Rev. Dr. Head gave a very encouraging account of a recent visit to Baltimore. The people seem much interested on the subject, and will no doubt liberally aid in establishing and endowing the institution. —Richmond Dispatch.

NOMINATIONS TO BE MADE BY THE PRESIDENT.—In a few days the President will probably withdraw the nomination of Gen McClellan as Minister to England, and send to the Senate the nomination of Hon. Reverdy Johnson for the position.

It is now certain that the Senate will not confirm Gen. McClellan, and therefore his nomination will be withdrawn.

It is probable that a nomination of a new Secretary of the Treasury and Secretary of the Interior will also be made next week.—Mr. Groesbeck is the expected successor of Mr. McCulloch.

Mr. Browning's successor is not decided upon.—Special to the Rich. Dispatch.

STATE NEWS.

Last week Reuben Medley and Vincent Medley, (colored,) father and son, former slaves of Joseph Medley, Esq., were arrested and had an examination before John Broadaway and M. P. Mask, Esqrs., in Wadesboro, and committed to jail by them, upon charges of attempting to raise an insurrection, and making threats to kill certain persons, one of whom, their old master, Mr. Medley, was particularly mentioned. The Argus says:

"From the evidence, it appears that Reuben broached the subject at a Loyal League meeting, and tried to induce one or two white persons to join with him and Vincent. They refused, and one of them, Calvin Davis, warned him as to what would be the consequences if he persisted in his efforts. Subsequently another League meeting was held, at which negroes only were invited to be present. Mr. Davis, hearing of it, and suspecting mischief, went to it, and heard Reuben unfold his plans for his colored brethren to join with him, "in a raid on old Joe Medley and other secesh—to kill them and divide their property." Mr. D. again warned Reuben, but he still persisted in trying to get volunteers to join him, and seeing that there would probably be mischief done, Mr. Davis instantly informed Mr. Medley, who, through the Sheriff, had Reuben and his son arrested. A large number of witnesses were examined, both white and black, and their evidence, we learn, was very strong against Reuben and Vincent. The magistrates committed them to jail to await trial at our next court. Our jail still being in a ruined condition, they were sent to Union County.

A great deal was said the latter part of last and the first of this week, relative to this case, some of the reports exaggerating it into an insurrection of great proportions,—that an attack had been made on Mr. Madley, and that he had killed one or more of the attacking party. The above are the facts. We get our report from one of the committing magistrates."

The Circus hardly paid expenses in Salisbury. The performances were interrupted by a storm of wind and rain. The Old North State says that its performances were better than it had been led to expect.

The Wadesboro' Argus says that the practice of carrying deadly weapons (guns and pistols) has become more prevalent in that section of late than ever, showing a total disregard to general orders from our military rulers relating to this subject.—The practice, it adds, seems to be more general among the blacks than the whites

Congleton, sometimes called "hog thief," is said to be busily engaged in taking negro affidavits, with a view to contesting the election of his successful Conservative opponent, Mr. Davis, to the "House of Representatives." How these old barnacles cling to office!

Four of the convicts, while at work in Goldsboro', on Friday, became mutinous, overpowered their guard and made good their escape.

[illegible] the noble Southern soldier dead. The papers of that city give glowing descriptions of the exercises. The number of persons visiting Hollywood Cemetery, during the Inquirer says:

"From 8 o'clock in the morning until the sun went down over the wilderness of flowers, there was one never ceasing procession of human beings of every age and sex, all marching toward Hollywood. Vehicles of all kinds were pressed into service. Carriages, ambulances, hacks, omnibusses, loaded with people bearing flowers, were constantly coming and going. Entering the gates, the people proceeded singly or in groups to different parts of the enclosure, until soon the City of the Dead was crowded with the living. Every hillside was covered with human forms, and in every dell might be seen a group, while on the avenues the tide of people did not cease to ebb and flow. Everywhere might be seen ladies bending over the graves, strewing the flowers about, or seated by the side of the dust returned to dust. Here was a widow whose children were made orphans by a death-dealing bullet at Gettysburg, a sister still mourning for a darling brother, scores of fair ones whose sombre black apparel proclaimed that they have been bereaved. All seemed to take a melancholy pleasure in the pious task of the day.

In the city every street gave evidence of the solemn business of the day. Bevies of ladies and children early commenced their pilgrimage, and sometimes the air seemed full of the sweet perfume of spring flowers. The street cars passed and repassed, filled to overflowing with passengers, all intent upon one purpose, all on the way to the cemetery.

Business was not entirely suspended, but for several hours during the day nearly all of the principal houses on Main and Broad streets were closed, and the employees joined in the pilgrimage to the cemetery.—At one time the streets were almost deserted. All classes of white persons seemed to have joined in the memorial demonstration. As the evening wore on, the thoroughfares were again thronged, and wore their wonted air, but still a Sabbath like air prevailed, and the night descended upon a quiet city."

One of the despicable resorts of the Chronicle to force impeachment upon the reluctant minds of just men in the Senate was the utterance of the known falsehood, that in failure of such a result, the "loyal" whites of the South would have to fly for their very lives. We have heard that Mackey, of Charleston, stated here that he had telegraphed to his family to leave that city if impeachment failed. He himself would not dare to return. Such were the falsehoods that were published far and near by the Jacobin newspapers. Gen. Grant, also, it seems, by the declarations of the Judds and Logans of party at Chicago, had said that in case impeachment failed he would be ordered away from Washington. Has he been ordered away? Does he expect to be? Where is the record of the wholesale murders and desolations by fire and sword which were to be visited upon the "trooly loil" at the South if impeachment failed!—Intelligencer.

In the grand transformation scene in the Chicago Convention, after the nomination of Grant, an ingenious slide fell, disclosing a full-life figure of the nominee, with the words "Match him" over his head. The New York Tribune printed it "Watch him," which, though an error of the types, was the most appropriate of mottoes.

It is rumored that since the death of impeachment, Butler is so sick that he has to be fed with a spoon. It is consoling to know that he has enough spoons to "last him through it."

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

ASSETS, $9,000,000.

No. POLICIES 52,700.

DIVISIBLE SURPLUS $1,884,768,51.

DIVIDENDS, 50 per cent.

In these days of competition between Life Insurance Companies much is said by rival Agents, each claiming the Company he represents to be the best. Without saying anything in disparagement of any Company, or, by simple assertion, anything in its favor, the ÆTNA begs leave to refer to the annexed table, compiled from the OFFICIAL and SWORN statements of twenty of the largest Companies in America, made to the Insurance Commissioners of the State of New York. The table shows the ratio of expense to each $100 received by each Company, for the three years ending January 1, 1868.

It will be seen that the expenses of the Ætna are much lower than any other Company; and, after the average is struck, the ÆTNA, in 1865, saved $10 41 out of each $100 received—more than the average; in 1866, $7 17, and in 1867, $4 90. The receipts of the ÆTNA were, in 1865, $1,655,309; in 1866, $3,523,376, and in 1867, $5,129,447. Consequently, its savings in the three years were $677,913 39, to which add 7 per cent. interest to July 1, 1868: $120,287 64, making a grand total of $797,207 03 saved over the average of all other Companies.

This is the measure of success, as applied by the Hon Elizur Wright, the greatest of American actuaries, to all Companies, and simply means that the Company whose RATIO of expense to its income is the least, is the best able to pay large dividends to its policy holders. That the Ætna is that Company, these comparisons of official statements plainly show.

Official Statement showing the Expenses and Losses by the Twenty Largest Insurance Companies in America.

He is stopping at the Yarborough House, where many of our citizens have called upon him, to pay him the respect which his high character and liberal views so well merit.

The Rev. Mr. Moran, who is to deliver the annual Sermon before the graduating class, is at present in the City.

The Exercises will be of a most interesting and attractive character. Raleigh will doubtless be, as it ought to be, well represented. It can, at least, send up a delegation of the prettiest girls in the State.—Does any body doubt that?

The following is the Order of Exercises, &c., for the three days:

Tuesday, June 2.—Freshman Competitors.

Wednesday, June 3.—Forenoon, Literary Address by Hon. Mr. Seymour, of Connecticut; Afternoon, Baccalaureate Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Moran, of the N. C. Conference M. E. Church, South; Evening, Sophomore Competitors.

Thursday, June 4.—Forenoon, Orations by members of the Senior Class; Afternoon, Orations by members of the Senior Class, Conferring Degrees and Reading of Annual Report. Evening, a Grand Ball.

There will be meetings of the two Literary Societies during the Commencement, as well as of the Historical Society and the Alumni Association.

The Societies' Halls and Libraries, the Confederate Repositories and the Museums will be continually open for the inspection and amusement of visitors.

Conveyances will be provided at Durham's Station.

ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.—This establishment will exhibit in this city on Saturday next. The name of Robinson is a familiar one in connection with these exhibitions, and is ordinarily a guarantee of their popularity. We presume, from what we see in the papers, that this one maintains the reputation of the name in this line.

IT WILL be seen, by the announcement in another column, that Ames' New Orleans Menagerie and Circus will exhibit in this city about the 26th. inst. This is said to be one of the most mammoth and splendid concerns of the kind in the country.

FEDERAL COURT.—This Tribunal commenced its regular June Term in the Senate Chamber, in this city, on yesterday,—his Honor, Judge Brooks, presiding. We learn that the docket is very much crowded, and that, if it is regularly gone through with, the session of the Court must be a protracted one.

The charge of the Judge to the Grand Jury was full and lucid, we learn.

We observe the following members of the Bar, from a distance, in attendance on the Court, viz: Hons. William A. Graham, Burton Craige, J. R. McLean and Thos. C. Fuller, W. McL. McKay, Esq., Col. Jas. T. Morehead, Jr., Col. H. C. Jones, Jr., Hon. Nathaniel Boyden, Col. D. M. Carter, T. B. Venable, Esq., and Geo. B. Harris, Esq.

EXCURSION AND PIC-NIC.—On Friday morning last, a comfortable and elegant train on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad bore off, to the country, our friends of the Presbyterian Sabbath School and Congregation. The sky was clear in the forenoon, but the air was hot and sultry, and the day closed with a shower. With the exception of the heat, the day passed away very pleasantly. The children were out in full force, and enjoyed themselves; while many children of larger growth renewed the scenes and pleasures of childhood. In innocent gambols, in music and merry making, in strolls through the strawberry fields, or by the river or pond, or beneath the sheltering branches of forest oaks, in fishing and sporting and childish games, the day slipped by too soon.

The collation, thanks to the industry and energy of the ladies, was served about 2 o'clock and furnished very great delight.—Doubtless it was regarded by many as the feature of the occasion. It was elegant, and was tastefully set out and hugely enjoyed.

The officers of the Railroad, as well as the teachers of the Sabbath School, spared no exertion to make the day a pleasant one, and how well they succeeded the beaming faces of happy childhood abundantly testified. Such smiles and joy are ample reward for any effort and sacrifice.

NEGRO JURORS.—An incident occurred in a County, not a thousand miles from here, a few days since, which illustrates the capacity of the "man and brother" for the intelligent and upright discharge of jury duty. The case involved was a civil suit. One of the parties to the suit had refused, some time previous, to credit a certain negro on the jury for some trifling articles. The negro had succeeded in obtaining credit from the other party. After the trial was over, the negro juryman approached the man, who had refused him credit, and boasted that he had revenged himself for the refusal, by voting against a verdict in his favor! "Sweet land of liberty,—to thee," &c.

IN NOTICING, some days since, the announcement of D. W. Courts, Esq., in connection with the American Agricultural and Mineral Land Company, we omitted to mention the important fact that the Company already has, in North Carolina, 300,000 acres of land. By the way, we again direct attention to the advertisement, in which some changes have been made since its original insertion.

HARRY MCCARTHY.—The celebrated Arkansas Comedian, of whom our readers have heard so much, will give a series of his attractive entertainments, in this City, at Tucker Hall, commencing this evening. He is well sustained by other actors, and the combination of talent will give the public a pleasant evening. See advertisement.

BANKRUPTCY.—Saturday was the last day allowed, under the operation of the Act, for filing applications in Bankruptcy, unless the applications were lodged in this City.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Silas Green, negro, was up, charged with stealing provisions from Nancy Edwards. He was returned to court to answer the charge.

Two young Milch Cows, with Calves, will be sold at 9 o'clock A. M. to day, at the Store of

G. T. & W. C. STRONACH.

The Buffalo Courier says:

"Grant is said to be locked in his room several hours each day, preparing his letter of acceptance. His only companions are a copy of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, "Frost's Original Letter Writer," and Rarey's "New Method." Washburne stands by the door, and Grant was heard to ask him, through the key hole, whether Chicago was spelt Chicawgo or Chicoughgo, as Webster, by some oversight, had not put that word in his dictionary."

WANTS TO DEGRADE THE GREY.—One Bard, of Arkansas, who, out of the maggoty men of the Convention, has developed himself into a winged spider in the Legislature of that State, made a bid for Radical applause the other day by offering a resolution recommending the adoption of the grey uniform of the late C. S. A. as the distinctive badge and clothing of penitentiary convicts; and furthermore, that persons convicted of manslaughter be entitled to wear the uniform of Colonel. We have no means of knowing who Bard is; but this we undertake to assert, that Bard, at some time or other, either sported the "striped livery" of some State's prison, which livery he seeks to change, or, having once worn the grey uniform, deserted and disgraced it in his own person.—Southern Opinion.

The Washington Chronicle is now turning its attention to "political demoralization through the influence of rebel women"—and is particularly scandalized at the "Southern sympathy" shown by ladies in Washington. It declares that these "Copperhead" women are all the time insidiously undermining the faith of the wives and daughters of "trooly loil" men—and injuriously affecting public sentiment!

Said Mr. Calhoun in a speech delivered in the United States Senate more than twenty-five years ago: "Be assured that emancipation itself would not satisfy these fanatics; that gained, the next step will be to raise the negroes to a social and political equality with the whites; and that being effected, we should soon find the condition of the two races reversed. They and their Northern allies would be the masters, and we the slaves."

A wild man, covered with hair and having tushes several inches long, has been discovered in the woods in Mississippi, and some of the Radical Carpet Baggers are after him to make a voter of.

ANOTHER SPECIMEN OF THE GOD AND MORALITY PARTY.—The doorkeeper of the Georgia Convention is in jail in Montgomery, Alabama, for robbing the mail. He has served in both armies and in the penitentiary. His name is Jones.

The Boston Post says the Congressional Globe will be suppressed as an obscene publication if it continues to publish the debates in Congress.

Woolley, in arrest for contempt of Butler, is said to be the only prisoner the Doctor ever took.

T. Stevens in his rage remarks that the impeachment is "the meanest trial, before the meanest tribunal, of the meanest man in the world."

A few days ago, in Washington, the carriage of Gen. C. (who commanded a division in Hancock's corps) was standing at a private door. An army officer in uniform came along, and asked the driver whose carriage it was.

Driver—Gen. C's, and he is in the house with Gen. Hancock.

Officer—And do you drive Gen. Hancock about?

Driver—Yes sir.

Officer—Well, instead of doing that, you ought to take the first opportunity to make your horses run away, upset the carriage, and break his d——d Copperhead neck.

Driver—I am hired to drive safely, and not to break people's necks. Gen. C. will be down presently, and may be you had better wait and tell him this.

The officer passed on. This is an actual occurrence. Grant has become very bitter himself, and, as he is the fountain of military favor, the army officers on his side are catching the fever, and the timid and time-serving are afraid to go about General Hancock's headquarters. The latter General has no personal relations with Grant—disdaining all intercourse with him, on the declared ground that Gen. Grant had grossly insulted him in those New Orleans orders upon which he asked to be relieved of his command.—Wash. Correspondence.

THE CARPET-BAGGERS.—The carpet-baggers are en route for home. There is no further use for them in Washington. Their little game of treason they wished to participate in is played out.—Washington Constitutional Union.

It took five columns of the official Paris Moniteur to describe the ceremony of the Prince Imperial receiving his first communion.

FROM WASHINGTON—CONGRESS—PASSAGE OF THE ARKANSAS BILL IN THE SENATE—GRANT'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE, &C.

WASHINGTON, June 1 P M.

SENATE.—A joint resolution from the Ohio Legislature, protesting against tampering with the impeachment Judge, was referred to the Corruption Committee.

A resolution thanking Stanton, passed. Henderson, Ross and Fowler, of the Republicans, voted nay.

The Arkansas bill was resumed, and, after a very long debate, passed—34 to 8—as it comes from the House. The bill goes to the President.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Under the regular call the following were introduced:

A Bill constructing Telegraph and Railroad from Washington to Cleaveland, Ohio;

A Joint Resolution, by Eggleston, of Ohio, authorizing the Secretary of War to employ Bingham and Butler to prosecute Mr. Davis;

Bill removing certain Mississippians' political disabilities, &c.

A Resolution continuing Vinnie Ream in her room was tabled—61 to 47.

Mr Van Trump offered a resolution, that the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to negotiate with the Mt. Vernon Association for the historical key of the French Battle, now in their possession, for the use of the [illegible] information as to the threat of citizens of Columbus, Ga., lies over [illegible] official note [illegible]

The House refused to entertain the resolution, declaring it a violation of the Constitution to seize private telegrams and papers.

The tax bill was taken up. Schenck made a long speech. He said:

"I take this occasion to say, now, that it is not the expectation of the committee that two dollars tax on whiskey will be retained by the House. Had this reduction been known four months ago, the Government would have lost four millions. I have come very reluctantly to the conclusion that a reduction should be made."

Schenck estimates the probable tax at seventy-five cents, at which rate, with additional taxes on whiskey merchants and a capacity tax on distilleries he estimates the revenue at seventy millions.

Adjourned.

The Senate Judiciary Committee report against Stanbury's confirmation.

No present change in the subordinate personnel of the war department is contemplated.

Beverly Johnson is mentioned in connection with the British mission.

The following is Grant's letter of acceptance:

WASHINGTON, May 29, 1868.

Gen. Joseph R. Hawley, President National Union Republican Convention:

In formally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention, of the 21st of May inst., it seems proper that some statement of views, beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination, should be expressed.

The proceedings of the Convention were marked with wisdom, moderation and patriotism, and I believe express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its recent trials. I endorse their resolutions. If elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy and with a view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere.

At times like the present, it is impossible, or, at least, eminently improper to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong, through an administration of four years.

New political issues, not foreseen, are constantly arising. The views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I have always respected that will and always shall.

Peace, and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the national debt. Let us have peace!

With great respect,
Your obedient servant,
U. S. GRANT."

The Radical canvassers are doubtful as to the result of the election to-day. The Democrats are more confident of the result. The vote is close; betting odds in favor of the Democrats, by from three to five hundred.

THE SEASONS.

BY AN INVALID.

I love the Spring
It seems to bring
Fresh breezes from the Adriatic—
(The wind, at least,
Is from the East,
And gives me agonies rheumatic!)

When Summer's here
I hold it dear,—
Of flowery wealth a gracious giver;—
(Although I've got,
Whene'er it's hot,
Some touches of a sluggish liver!)

When Autumn hints
With beauteous tints
That Summer's song has its cadenza,
I love it well:—
(Though truth to tell,
I know it brings me influenza.)

And Winter's snow
I love also—
For snow a reasonable sight is:—
(Although there are
Coughs, cold, catarrh,
Diptheria, phthisis and bronchitis!)

NOT IN THE SAME BOAT.—It has generally been supposed that the original abolitionists sailed in the same boat, but the following report of an episode which occurred at the meeting of the the Anti-Slavery Society on the 13th. shows that the boat and the captain were alike distasteful to at least one person:

"At the conclusion of Mr. Phillips' address Mrs. Stanton stepped forward to speak, but at this moment an oratorical lady in the audience, who gave her name as Mrs. Kemp, claimed the floor, and insisted that she was 'up first' in such a determined manner that no one seemed to have the courage to contradict her. Addressing Mr. Phillips, she said: I observe that you are sailing down the Gulf stream in a very small boat, in which there is no room for only white and black men, and no room for us women; so I suppose we shall have to take another boat. You have no objection?

"Mr. Phillips, (bowing)—Not the slightest, madam.

"Mrs. Kemp—And to begin with, we don't want you for captain.

"Mr. Phillips bowed.

"Mrs. Kemp—We want a bigger man than you. We want a better and more righteous man than you.

"Mr. Phillips—Thank you, madam.

"Mrs. Kemp—There is another boat, sir—the Democratic boat—I suppose we shall have to take that. You have no objection?

"Mr. Phillips—None whatever, madam.

"The lady seemed disposed to continue the colloquy, which, however, was brought to an abrupt end by Mrs. E. Cady Stanton, who stepped forward and began an address.

This was a spicy colloquy, and it is hard to see which contestant had the better of it.

IMPORTATION OF BEES.—Few of our readers, we presume, are aware of the extent of the importation of bees. It is stated that during the summer scarcely a steamer arrives from Hamburg or Bremen without bringing an invoice of bees. The common honey bee is not a native of the American continent, having been brought here from Europe early in the settlement of this country, from its beauty and activity, bids fair to become a great favorite. Strange to say, bees can be purchased in California cheaper than they have been carried there since the discovery of gold. The climate and the unusual skill of cultivators of the bee on the Pacific coast have developed the mellificatory insect to an extraordinary extent. These intelligent little creatures, as remarkable for their geometrical instincts as their industrious habits, are well worthy of the care which is bestowed upon them, to say nothing of the delicious product of their labors.—Journal of Chemistry.

The oldest relic of humanity extant is one of the earlier Pharaohs, encased in his original burial robes, and wonderfully perfect, considering its age, which was deposited, about eighteen or twenty months ago, in the British Museum, and is justly considered the most valuable of its archæological treasures. The lid of the coffin which contained the royal mummy was inscribed with the name of its occupant, Pharaoh Mykesimus, who succeeded the heir of the builder of the pyramids, about ten centuries before Christ. Only think of it; the monarch, whose crumbling bones and leathery integuments are now exciting the wonder of numerous gazers in London, reigned in Egypt before Solomon was born, and only about eleven centuries or so after Mizraim, the grandson of old father Noah, and the first of the Pharaohs, had been gathered to his fathers! Why, the tide-mark of the deluge could scarcely have been obliterated, or the gopher-wood knee timbers of the ark have rotted on Mount Ararat, when this man of the early world lived, moved, and had his being! His flesh and blood were contemporaries of the great patriarch! His bones and shriveled skin are contemporary with the nineteenth century, and the date of the crucifixion is only midway between his year and ours.

RICH WITHOUT MONEY.—Many a man is rich without money. Thousands of men, with nothing in their pockets, are rich. A man born with a good sound constitution, a good stomach, a good heart and good limbs, and a pretty good head-piece, is rich. Good bones are better than gold, tough muscles than silver, and nerves that flash fire and carry energy to every function, are better than houses and land. It is better than landed estate to have had the right kind of father and mother. Good breeds and bad breeds exist among men as really as among herds and horses. Education may do much to check evil tendencies, or to develop good ones, but it is a great thing to inherit the right proportion of faculties to start with. That man is rich who has a good disposition—who is naturally kind, patient, cheerful, hopeful, and who has a flavor of wit and fun in his composition. The hardest thing to get along with in this life is a man's own self. A cross, selfish fellow, desponding and complaining fellow, a timid, care-burdened man—these are all born deformed on the inside. Their feet may not limp, but their thoughts do. A man of fortune, on the brink of the grave, would gladly part with every dollar, to obtain a longer lease of life.

Of all the sights in Paris, none is more curious than the snail seller. He trundles a large and shallow hand cart through the streets, covered with huge snails crawling all over the side of the cart, with horns extended, and house on back. A dozen can be purchased for the small sum of two sous; you can select them yourself, and carry them away in a paper bag. Some people eat them raw, like oysters; others roast them with savory herbs. The best snails come from Burgundy in the autumn, and are fattened on the vine leaves. Those now selling are gathered in every ditch outside the city, the several cemeteries yielding the largest supplies.

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.

Finally, the SENTINEL will seek to be the special promoter of the educational, agricultural and economical interests of the people of North Carolina.

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our readers may understand it, and may therefore not be liable to be imposed upon by parties, who are indifferent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to compile from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its benefits. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine hastily what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent Attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, insisting all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, (though not in possession) in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Orders" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U. S. Commissioner, must accompany the petition and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be six months subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. No creditor has any standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property by him acquired subsequent to filing a petition in Bankruptcy. 'In other words, the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudication of bankruptcy follows, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over.' On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule is, that the applicant in Bankruptcy appears to be, that the applicant in Bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made from investment or credit, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge in bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10. As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: "Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars; also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoing as is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or other process by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1864. A safe 'Counsel' for suggests, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their houses and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest bankrupt in this State can have allotted to him, free from the operation of the Act, exceeding $700, besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. days after the assignment the assignee shall set apart to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, security dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be delivered to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors.

13. Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $50 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they demand higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the limit which the Act makes as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy. Some have supposed that no debtor will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the exact of their indebtedness which they cannot pay, in which to present their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness, in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B., except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note of memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.
